

X-WING™ TOURNAMENT RULES

VERSION 1.2/ UPDATED 2.15.2013

The organized play program for the Star Wars: X-Wing™ Miniatures Game, sponsored by Fantasy Flight Games ("FFG") and its international partners, will follow the organization and rules provided in this document.

For the 2013 tournament season, all sanctioned X-Wing tournaments must be run as Dogfight events.

The beginning of this document provides an overview of player conduct and general rules that apply to all events. Following are the official Dogfight tournament rules. At the end of the document are additional squad-building rules and component restrictions.

Changes and additions made to this document since the previous version are marked in red.

CONDUCT

Component Interpretation and Rules

Sanctioned tournaments are played using the rules in the X-Wing core set rulebook, which may be downloaded from the X-Wing website at any time. Components are interpreted using the appropriate rulings on the most recent FAQ available on the X-Wing support page. During sanctioned competition, players must refer to this FAQ to settle disputes concerning printed values and icons or the interpretation of a card's wording. Also, the golden rule applies when interpreting card effects and interactions; if the rules text of a card contradicts the game rules, the rules on the card take precedence.

The Tournament Organizer ("TO") is the final authority for all card interpretations, and he or she may overrule the FAQ when, in his or her opinion, a mistake or error is discovered.

Unsportsmanlike Conduct

Players are expected to behave in a mature and considerate manner, and to play within the rules and not abuse them. This prohibits intentionally stalling a game for time, placing components with excessive force, abusing an infinite combo, inappropriate behavior, treating an opponent with a lack of courtesy or respect, etc. Collusion among players to manipulate scoring is expressly forbidden. The TO, at his or her sole discretion, may remove players from the tournament for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Tournament Organizer Participation

The TO may participate in a tournament for which he or she is responsible only if there is a second Tournament Organizer present. This second TO must be present and announced at the beginning of the tournament, and is responsible for all rulings for games in which the primary TO is playing.

Margin of Error

Ships are sometimes moved accidentally or placed inexactly during the normal course of the game. A small margin of error is allowed in the position and orientation of ships in these situations so that the pace of the game is not unnecessarily affected. Players should not abuse this margin of error, and they must use the tools included with the game to be as accurate as possible. Using excessive force when placing components to intentionally move other components is expressly forbidden. In the event of a dispute, the TO has the final authority on ruling and can disqualify unsportsmanlike players.

Missed Opportunities

Players are expected to play optimally, remembering to perform actions and use card effects when indicated. If a player forgets to use an effect during the timing specified by that effect, he cannot retroactively use it without the consent of his opponent. Players are expected to act with respect and not intentionally distract or rush an opponent with the intent of forcing a missed opportunity.

SQUAD BUILDING

Each player must build one squad for use in an X-Wing tournament. The squad-building rules described in this section supersede the squad-building rules described in the X-Wing rulebook.

The maximum squad points for each player is 100 points. A squad cannot exceed 100 points, though it may contain fewer than 100 points.

Each player may choose to field either a Rebel or Imperial squad, as tournament seeding ignores the player's faction.

Each player must submit his squad composition, including all associated Upgrade cards and total squad points, to the TO before the start of the tournament. Players must use the same squad for the duration of the tournament, including all Ship and Upgrade cards.

Each player must bring an X-Wing core set and any additional components he needs for his squad. This includes but is not limited to dice, a range ruler, maneuver templates, asteroid tokens and a complete Damage deck. A player cannot bring more than one copy of each asteroid token. The TO is not expected to supply any game components to players.

Component Modifications

Players are welcome and encouraged to personalize their squads according to the following rules. The TO is the final authority on any component's eligibility in the tournament. If a component is ruled ineligible and the player does not have a replacement for it, that player is disqualified from the tournament.

Ship models may be painted as desired as long as the alterations are not offensive and do not adversely affect another player's experience. The size and shape of a ship model cannot be modified in any way.

Ship bases cannot be modified to alter their size or shape. Weight may be added to a ship base if it does not alter the size or shape of the base.

Cards must remain unaltered, though they may be sleeved for protection. Sleeves for Damage cards must be identical and unaltered. Players may mark their tokens and the front of their maneuver dials to indicate ownership as long as the function of the component is not compromised.

Proxies are not allowed during tournament play. Each player must use only the components included in official X-Wing products. Each ship must have the official ship base, official Ship and Upgrade cards, and the correct, official ship model.

OFFICIAL X-WING DOGFIGHT TOURNAMENT RULES

Dogfight tournaments for the X-Wing miniatures game are held in a series of 75 minute tournament rounds. Tournament organizers may adjust this number down to 60 minutes or up to 90 minutes as they see fit. If they do, they must inform all players in advance of the tournament. Each tournament round, players will score points based on the result of their game. After a predetermined number of tournament rounds (depending on the field size and time constraints of the tournament), the top point-scorer is the winner of the tournament unless there is a championship bracket scheduled.

For larger tournaments, the field will cut to a final championship bracket. In such a tournament, the top point scorers (usually a top 4 or top 8) will then play off in single-elimination championship brackets to determine the tournament champion. The TO must declare whether there will be a championship bracket before the tournament begins.

Setup Procedure

Before the tournament begins, the TO must set up tables suitable for tournament play. Each table must contain a 3' by 3' square play area with clearly delineated edges. Two opposite edges of the play area should be labeled as player edges. Players should have enough space on the table to comfortably place all of the components necessary for their squads. The TO will assign each player a number for the purpose of seating.

If a TO cannot or chooses not to comply with the recommended setup, he must inform all players of the alternate play area well in advance of the start of the tournament.

Seeding

Standard Swiss style pairings are used (see FFG Organized Play support page for details). Random pairings are allowed for the first round. The TO should avoid pairing family members or players who travelled together to get to the tournament, if at all possible, for the first round. For future pairings, pair players within the same score group as per Swiss style pairings.

Tournament organizers should always pair opponents within score groups. Rather than pairing randomly, sort the players in each score group by player number, then pair the top number to the bottom, the second to the second to last and so on. This allows for the subtle adjustment of players if one player has already played another player and has the same effect as using brackets so that the top 2 players do not meet until the last round. The "odd" player of a score group will be paired down to the next score group, playing the highest ranked player of that score group.

If there is an odd number of players in the tournament, the lowest-ranked player receives a bye, counting as a Match Win. When there is more than one lowest-ranked player, the lowest-ranked player with the lowest player number receives the bye.

Round two example: If there are eight players in the 3 score group, sort them in player number order, then separate into two groups, 1-4 and 5-8. Pair player number 1 vs 5, 2 vs 6, 3 vs 7 and 4 vs 8. If there are seven players in the 3 score group, sort them in player number order, then separate into two groups, 1-3, 4-6. Player 7 will play against the highest ranked player of the next lower score group.

Squad Deployment Procedure

The following steps must be performed before each game begins:

1. Each player places his squad outside of the play area next to his assigned player edge.
2. Both players reveal all components in their squads and assign ID tokens to any ships that have a duplicate on the same team. If both players fielded squads from the same faction, ID tokens are assigned to all ships (see Mirror Matches on page 3). One player must exclusively display the white numerals of his ID tokens; the other player displays only the black numerals.

3. Each player shuffles his Damage deck thoroughly and presents it to his opponent. His opponent may shuffle and cut the deck if desired.
4. Players determine initiative. Initiative goes to the player with the lowest squad point total. If both players are tied with the same squad point total, initiative goes to the player who wins a coin toss.
5. The player with initiative places the six unique asteroid tokens from his core set next to the play area. He chooses one of these asteroid tokens and places it into the play area. Then, his opponent chooses one of the remaining asteroid tokens and places it into the play area. The players continue to alternate until all six tokens have been placed. An asteroid token cannot be placed within Range 1–2 of any edge of the play area or within Range 1 of another asteroid token.
6. Players place their ships in ascending order of pilot skill as per standard X-Wing rules.
7. Players activate shields and prepare any special components they may need, then begin the match following the rules presented in the X-Wing Rules of Play.

End of Match

Each tournament match ends in one of the following three ways:

- All of one player's ships are destroyed (respecting the Simultaneous Attack Rule, p 16). The player with at least one ship remaining immediately earns a Match Win, and his opponent receives a Match Loss. If neither player has any remaining ships, the game ends in a Draw.
- At the end of the current round, the match time limit has been reached. Each player calculates the total squad point value of his opponent's destroyed ships, including Upgrade cards equipped to those ships. The player who destroyed the greatest total squad point value receives a Modified Match Win, and his opponent receives a Match Loss. If the winning player destroys at least 33 points more than his opponent, he receives a Match Win instead. If both players destroyed the same total squad point value, the game ends in a Draw.
- A player voluntarily concedes defeat at any point during the match. By conceding defeat, he receives a Match Loss and his opponent receives a Match Win. It is considered good sportsmanship to concede defeat when there is no reasonable chance for victory.

Scoring

Players earn tournament points at the end of each match as follows:

- Match Win = 5 points
- Modified Match Win = 3 points
- Draw = 1 point
- Match Loss = 0 points

These points are used to determine the winner of the tournament, or, in the case of a larger event, they are used to determine who makes the cut to the championship bracket rounds.

Breaking Ties

If players have identical win-loss records, the tie is broken based on the difficulty of their competition. If the tied players have played against each other, the player that won that match wins the tie. If they have not, "tie-breaker points" are awarded by calculating the strength of each player's schedule by combining total match points of all their opponents. The player with the most tie-breaker points wins the tie and advances. This way, the person who played the most "difficult" games wins the tie. This procedure is also called the "strength of schedule."

Championship Bracket Rounds

In larger tournaments, the TO may "cut to the top" after the third round. The TO will announce if there is a cut before the start of the tournament. Players are ordered by tournament points from highest to lowest, with strength of schedule used to eliminate ties. The top players (determined by tournament size) then begin a new set of tournament rounds. Only these players will be paired in subsequent rounds.

The champion bracket's seeding is generated by ranking in the preliminaries; the player with the best record will play against the player with the worst record, the player with the second best record will play against the player with the second worst record and so on. In the championship bracket, players are eliminated from the pairings once they have lost a game. Only those players who have won continue on to the next round. The winner of the championship bracket is the tournament champion.

ADDITIONAL TOURNAMENT RULES

Score Piles

To facilitate squad point counting when a match reaches the time limit, each player must maintain a score pile next to his Ship cards. When a ship is destroyed, the owner of the ship places the corresponding Ship card into his score pile along with all Upgrade cards equipped to that ship. At the end of the match, each player calculates the total value of the ships he destroyed by totaling the squad point values of all cards in his opponent's score pile. Players may request to count both score piles to verify final scores.

Discarded Cards

When a player is instructed to discard a Ship card or Upgrade card, he flips it facedown instead. Facedown Ship and Upgrade cards are out of play and treated as discarded. Discarded Upgrade cards remain next to the Ship card to which they are equipped; they are not placed into the score pile unless the ship to which they are equipped is destroyed.

Mirror Matches

A mirror match is a match between two players who are using the same faction. Tournament seeding does not favor Rebel vs Imperial matches, so mirror matches will occur. If players using the same faction are paired for a match, all normal game rules apply. Each player may field cards with unique names even if his opponent is using a card with the same unique name.

To facilitate a mirror match, each player is required to assign ID tokens to each of his ships, including ships with unique names. One player must exclusively use ID tokens with the white numerals facing outward, and his opponent must exclusively use ID tokens with the black numerals facing outward. If players cannot agree upon color assignment, the winner of a coin toss chooses the color of their ID tokens.

When a player assigns maneuver dials, he may assign them to Ship cards rather than placing them next to ship bases. This prevents a player from mistaking his opponent's dials for his own.

Damage Cards

When a player's ship is dealt a Damage card, the card is dealt from that player's own Damage deck. Players must maintain their own discard piles for their Damage cards. Before shuffling, players may request to examine their opponent's Damage deck to confirm its contents are correct. The TO may check Damage decks at any time.

Uniform Range Measurement

Due to minor variations during the printing process and the existence of third-party products, the measurements from ruler to ruler may vary slightly. As a result, a player may request that only one range ruler be used during the match. If either player makes this request, the players must decide which range ruler to use for the entire duration of the match, including which side of that ruler to use. If the players cannot agree, either player may ask the TO to decide.
